References and bibliography should utilize standard parenthetical references (PR) and reference lists (RL). This may be done in accord with the specifications given in the seventh edition of Kate Turabian's A manual for writers. The editor, associate editors, and book review editors reserve the right to make editorial modifications and to preserve the unique Turabian features. For multiple submissions, only one paper will be published in a year.

Authors are responsible for the accuracy of all quotations and for providing complete references. An abstract of not more than one hundred words, summarizing the thesis or intent of the paper, should be included in the article. A brief curriculum vitae of the author should be appended. Contributors should keep their own copies of all materials submitted. They should also include their respective email and exact mailing addresses. The medium of expression of the journal is English—British or American.

Authors of published articles in this journal are entitled to a PDF copy of their papers and to the two issues of the journal for the year of their membership. They are, however, enjoined to pay the PNPRS membership (plus processing fees) during the year their articles appear in the journal.
